For Mayor.

In this issue of the Herald this week is to be found the announcement of Bayless L. Guffy, as a candidate for the office of Mayor of the City of Hayti.

Mr. Guffy is well known to the people of Hayti, having several times been connected with the city administration in past years as city attorney.

He is a good lawyer, and of course this fits him beyond a doubt for the office of Mayor, and which office should be ably filled. The Herald can say, and we believe, should Mr. Guffy be elected, the people will have the laws of the city enforced or will be repealed. We believe Mr. Guffy will be honest in every effort if he is rewarded by our citizens in his election.

Mr. Guffy would not commit himself in anyway; but he said the people of Hayti knew him and if they believed he would serve them in a right manner, then it was up to them to give him their support.

Without a doubt, we believe he would make a good official, and be fair to all—and we must insist, enforce the law.

He asks your consideration at the polls at the city election, Tuesday, April 3th.

A very unfortunate and disagreeable affair occurred in this city Wednesday afternoon in the way of a general street fight, and in which much of it could have been avoided had the proper authorities given it the attention at the right time. Attention was called insufficient time as to stopped it before it grew to the magnitude that it did. Many arrests have been made and especially two we understand are held under state warrant for having displayed and threatening to use concealed weapons. The Herald indeed regrets to give matters like this mention, but do so this time solely for the benefit of the public in the administration of its public peace.

George Dorris has purchased the Moro Gaskin brick building on the west side of the square. The consideration we could not learn. Mr. Dorris informed the Herald that he would install his undertaking parlors there soon, and it would be fully up-to-date.

Dr. J. W. Johnson and family left Tuesday afternoon on the four o'clock train for New Orleans, La. The family going for a short winter and pleasure trip, also in hopes of recuperating, and the Doctor to take a short post-graduate course in the medical science.

MISSOURI MILITIA.

Special Herald Correspondent.

Laredo, Tex., December 30.—Since our last writing Company B has spent the Christmas holidays, the best they ever knew. As every day is alike on the border a very nice dinner was served. That day all the boys looked for the mail which was late in arriving. None were slighted as all received presents. There was no drill ordered until the 1st of January.

Last Thursday when an hour drill was ordered by the Colonel, Lieut. Hitchcock took the company out and was at once called in by the Major. This made the boys feel fine, thinking there was to be no drill, however this proved to be a joke, as we were hiked 15 miles. The Second Missouri was to leave us at ten o'clock for home. It was thought the Fourth would disturb the peace in greeting the boys good-bye, and would hold the Fourth out until the Second got away. The Second did not leave until two o'clock. Not a word was heard from the Fourth as the Second passed out.

All the troops stationed in the Laredo district are the Fourth Missouri Infantry and the Third Missouri Field Artillery. Thus it is to be seen that the Fourth Regiment is all the Missouri troops left on the border.

Quite a joke was played by one of the Second Mo. boys on the day before their departure. He sold to a Mexican all the mess halls, including the Y. M. C. A. building, and the soldiers giving his receipt singing as Lieut. Cheatum.

A very serious accident occurred in the First New Hampshire infantry. A private of Co. "I" accidentally shooting himself, and only living a short time. His body was brought here and was prepared for shipment to his home. His company was stationed at Zapata.

Roger Smyth while spending Christmas with his father at San Antonio has secured more time on his leave of absence on account of the illness of his father. Serg. Terror and Corp. Smyth visited at San Antonio two days. Last week they returned stating they had a jolly time.

Lieut. Huffman returned from Missouri Thursday and when asked about Missouri said it was cold. Every time the Lieutenant would come out in the company streets he was asked questions faster than he could answer them.

John L. Shepard arrived Thursday from Blytheville, Ark., where he spent his 30 days leave of absence on account of the illness of his mother. John stated that his mother is much better and that he visited up in Missouri and met lots of people. So, John put in most of his time telling the boys of Co. "B" about the people at home and how cold it was there.

Chas. J. Provine, and old citizen of Hayti, but who now holds a good position with the Cotton Belt Railway Co., at Pine Bluff, Ark., sends the Herald the where-withal for subscription, in the care of Wm. York, and sends greetings. Charlie says he is in the best of health, and of which his friends in Hayti will be pleased to learn well of him.
